

ROSWELL DAILY RECORD.

VOLUME 8.

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 23, 1910

NUMBER 95

DISAGREE ON HIGH PRICES

Washington, June 23.—The Republicans and the Democrats do not agree as to the cause for the increase of living between 1900 and 1910. A majority report of the special senate committee which has been investigating the question was submitted to the senate today by Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee.

A meeting was held prior to the presentation of the report and the minority members protested against the character of the findings.

After a long argument they were authorized to employ an expert to prepare a report of the views of the minority.

By unanimous consent the house non-concurred in the senate amendments to the public buildings bill and that measure will be sent to conference.

Washington, June 23.—The omnibus public buildings bill is held up for lack of an appropriation. The last of the general appropriation bills having been passed it would require a joint resolution to appropriate the $24,000,000 to construct the buildings authorized and there is opposition to the proposed resolutions.

JUBILANT JOHN.

Clinton (Mo.), Democrat.

At noon today we received the following telegram:

Hagerman, N. M., June 20.

Daily Democrat, Clinton, Mo.

I love 'ry Missouri, but Oh, You State of New Mexico.

JOHN L. HINKLE

All of which shows the jubilant frame of mind of that prince of good fellows, John L. Hinkle former prosecuting attorney of Henry county but now in the banking business at Hagerman.

We congratulate John on the prospects of being again a citizen of the United States of America. For a while it looked pretty dubious for Arizona and New Mexico, but we hope everything will now get along smoothly and that John can help us two years from now to elect a Democratic president. Meanwhile there is no better man in the coming State of New Mexico than John L. Hinkle and if he wants anything political, we're for him.

EVEN FLICKINGER'S MOTHER

DID NOT KNOW HIM.

T. E. Flickinger, of Rural Route No. 1, has returned from a five weeks' visit at his old home near Baltimore, Md., where he had not visited for 26 years. He arrived at Baltimore, just as he planned, on the day when all his relatives 33 in number, had assembled at his brother's home to celebrate his mother's 73rd birthday. He drove up just as the crowd was sitting down to dinner. Not only did he appear a stranger to his brother but he had a hard job convincing him that he was really the man he claimed to be and not an imposter. A deep scar on the forehead, received in childhood, finally convinced the doubting brother. To prevent a shock to his aged mother, Mr. Flickinger had her notified secretly that he had returned, but he went into the immense dining room and was introduced to the crowd at the table as a stranger. After the meal was in progress one of the ladies, who, 26 years ago was a young girl friend of the Roswell man and is now the wife of his younger brother, recognized the visitor and when she set the example to the others, the dinner party was almost broken up in greetings and rejoicing over the return of the long absent son and brother. There were many nieces and nephews Mr. Flickinger had never seen. Mr. Flickinger says money could not buy the pleasures of his trip to his old home.

INDICTMENT WAS FAULTY

Chicago, June 23.—Judge Landis, in the United States district court here today sustained the denunciations of the so-called beef trust to the indictments charging a combination in restraint of trade.

A new grand jury was ordered to renew the investigation of the packing companies.

The indictment was drawn on evidence secured by agents of the federal government and was against the National Packing Company and ten subsidiary organizations.

Congratulations were exchanged when Judge Landis announced that the indictments would not stand, but the demonstration came to a sudden end when the court added that he would call a special grand jury before of seventy-five men for July 14, that body to be ordered to hear the testimony in view of securing a binding and valid indictment against the packing companies.

The indictment quashed today failed to show, in the view of Judge Landis, that any offense was committed within the last three years. It did not show that during the statutory period the defendants were engaged in interstate commerce.

The general averment that the packing house companies were engaged in a combination in restraint of trade the court declared, was a mere conclusion.

There is going to be something interesting to the housekeeper to take place at the "Economy" Saturday—better go and see what it is.

LOCALS WIN WITH EASE

Roswell easily defeated Clovis in the opening game of the present series of two at Amusement Park yesterday afternoon by the score of six to two. The trick was turned by bunting and hits. Leland's colts made 8 hits and the visitors seven, but the home boys bunched theirs and Clovis had its safeties scattered through different innings. Only once did Clovis get two hits in the same inning, that being in the second and then Weeks struck out two and caught a pop-up before anybody could score.

Roswell scored in two innings. In the third inning four hits, two sacrifices and a base on balls totaled four runs. Again in the fifth when McCaslin was down on a safety, Wright wrapped out a home-run over the deep center field fence and two more were in. The rest of the game was a saw-out for Roswell. The visitors scored in the first inning on a two-bagger by R. Wallace, followed by two errors. Again in the sixth Clovis scored when Sims, down through the agency of an error, at second by a steal, advanced to third on a hit, reached home after C. Wallace flew out to left field.

All the Roswell boys played base ball yesterday, after the first inning, especially at base running and batting. The small number of assists was phenomenal, there being but six, out of which Weeks fielded five. The feature of the game was easily the feat of Weeks. He struck out thirteen, caught out two and took in five more chances without error. He hit once passed none. Although seven hits were made off of him, they were scattered so badly they were worthless. Weeks caught one red-hot liner from Hubbard's bat that was so fast he did not know he had it.

McCaslin's batting was noticeable, also as he got a two-bagger and two singles out of four times up. The splendid work of Castelline, Roswell's new center-fielder, should not be overlooked. He and Moore both had several chances yesterday and fielded in fine form.

From the scorer's standpoint, it was a hard game to score, there being several semis hits and close plays where the judgment of the score-keeper decides points that mean something in the players' averages.

The official score:

FIREMAN HURLED FROM

BUGGY GOING TO A FIRE.

Walter Huckleby, one of the city firemen, was hurled from the back of Chief Charles Whitman's vehicle turned the corner going from Main to Fifth street at the time the fire alarm was sent in at eight o'clock last night. How he escaped serious injury is a mystery, but his personal damage consists principally of bruises and scratches. The fire alarm was sent in by someone who saw a pile of trash burning at the old Roswell Steam Laundry site, not knowing that some person had set it on fire to clear the ground and was taking care that it did not spread.

HOME BASE OF MISSIONS

Edinburg, Scotland, June 23.—The report of the Commission on the "Home Base of Missions," presented to the World's Missionary Conference today by the chairman, the Rev. James L. Barton, dealt with the organization methods, policies and results of the operations of missionary societies upon their home side. It collected an immense amount of material gathered to show how to secure an adequate constituency, the proper training of missionaries financial support and an increase in interest. Dr. Barton is foreign secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The commission also includes the Rev. A. Doodman Hall, secretary of the Home Department of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Helen B. Montgomery, secretary of the Women's Baptist Missionary Society, and John W. Wood, corresponding secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missions Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

Under the head of "Promotion of Missionary Intelligence" the report asks for more enthusiastic missionary work in the pulpits at home. "The leaders of missionary enterprise," it continues, "are unanimous in their judgment as to the imperative importance of interesting the boyhood and girlhood of the churches in the work of foreign missions. One of the most encouraging features of missionary advance is the rapid development of the work in the Sunday school field during the last five years." A consensus of opinion gathered by the Commission as to the best means of interesting and enlisting the services of children gives first place to consecutive courses of missionary instruction of study apart from Sunday school lessons. Other methods advised are: children's working parties or similar outlets for active help, desirable missionary lessons in Sunday school and missionary addresses to the children.

During the last fiscal year, the report says 5,532,546 copies of pamphlets and leaflets relating to missionary work have been issued. The cost of distribution for five years was $269,951, and for the last year $52,418, or about a cent and a half per leaflet. The money thus spent is about one and one-sixteenth per cent. of the total receipts of mission boards.

The Commission finds that very little is being offered in the line of specific courses on missions in the curricula of the academic institutions of America outside the denominational schools. Increasing effort, however, is being made to treat the subject more or less exhaustively in connection with the departments of Comparative Religion, Pedagogy, Anthropology, History, Sociology, Sacred Literature, Political Science, Ethics, History of Religion, Philosophy and Oriental Religion.

The supreme value of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association in the conduct of mission study classes is highly emphasized. "In America," says the report, "an exhaustive investigation was made among one hundred and twenty-eight theological training institutions. The inquiries related to 'Mission Study Courses in the Curriculum,' 'Mission Lecture Courses,' 'Cost of Missionary Instruction,' 'Voluntary Mission Study,' 'Missionary Literature.' Replies were received from one hundred and fifteen institutions.

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTAIN

THEIR GRAND MASTER.

Samaritan Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., last night had an informal meeting and social session with their auxiliary lodge, the Rebekahs, in honor of their Grand Master, Mr. Howell, of Tucuman. The meeting was held in Odd Fellow hall over the Record office and was largely attended. The M. W. A. band furnished the music for the evening, but there were also some nice piano and violin selections and other entertainment features. Appropriate refreshments were served late in the evening. Grand Master Howell departed this morning for the lower valley, where he will visit the Odd Fellow lodges.

The Young Peoples Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church will serve Ice Cream and cake on the Court House Lawn Saturday evening. 95¢.

AVIATOR FALLS ONE HUNDRED FEET TO THE GROUND

London, June 23.—Capt. F. H. Cody, the aviator, when making a flight at Aldershot today, fell from a height of one hundred feet, and was seriously injured.

The machine was caught in a gust of wind and becoming unmanageable, plunged to the ground. Cody was pinned beneath the wreckage.

Cody, an American by birth, is employed by the British war department to teach its officers aeronautics.

PHILIPPINE OUTBREAK

Seattle, Wash., June 23.—Mindoro Moros have murdered Dutch traders under conditions which may develop into an outbreak so serious that a demonstration by troops from the military station at Camp Jalos may be required.

According to a report by steamer a party of Moros from the Tawi Tawi group of islands being driven by storms to an island of the Celebes group, murdered three traders and made off with valuable loot.

A Dutch gunboat gave pursuit and found the murderers on Mamsanana island in the Philippines. Philippine Scouts made an attempt to capture the murderers, who withdrew to a central island.

A note was sent by the chief headman of the tribe that the murderers would not submit to arrest and that the entire population of several hundred would resist. The commander at Jalos immediately dispatched two companies of infantry to the aid of the Constabulary.

The result had not transpired when the steamer sailed. It is reported the natives are on the island of Manusmania.

JOSEPH WENDLING NOT FOUND NEAR SAN ANTONIO.

Houston, Texas, June 23.—Chief of Police Billis of this city, and chief of detectives Carney, of Louisville, Kentucky, returned today from San Antonio from a fruitless quest after Joseph Wendling, wanted in Louisville on the charge of killing 8-year-old Alma Kellner. The officers were convinced that the report that he is on a ranch near San Antonio were untrue.

STARTS ON TRIP TO OLD

HOME AFTER MANY YEARS.

Olof Persson left this morning for his old home in Sweden, after an absence of 23 years. He will spend three to six months on the trip, just as he desires after reaching the old country. He will go first to Stockholm and afterward to many points in that country. He will visit his brothers and sisters, but rumor has it that another attraction draws him to Sweden and that when he returns he will no longer be keeping bachelor's hall at 459 South Pennsylvania avenue.

CHARLTON ARRESTED

New York, June 23.—Porter Charlton, the husband of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, whose body was found stuffed in a trunk taken from Lake Como, Italy, recently, was arrested as he stepped from the steamship Princess Irene, in Hoboken, today.

Charlton at first denied his identity, but after being given the "third degree," admitted that he was the husband of Mrs. Charlton and then made a signed statement confessing to the murder.

To the Hoboken police Charlton said he and his wife had been having supper together at the villa on Lake Como and engaged in a violent quarrel. Charlton said his wife was one of the best women in the world, but had an ungovernable temper; that she called him vile names and finally, when he could stand her abuse no longer, he attacked her with a wooden mallet. The young man said he struck her over the head three times, knocking her unconscious and killing her, so far as he knew. He then, he said, placed the body in the trunk, which he threw into the water.

While Charlton was being "sweated" he became infuriated and drawing a revolver tried to shoot Chief of Police Hayes. He was disarmed and a few minutes later confessed to the crime.

Captain Scott, a brother of Mrs. Charlton, materially assisted the officers in effecting the capture of Charlton, whose careful description he had given. Captain Scott took one glance at Charlton as the police were leading him to the station and said, "that's Charlton."

Scott obtained a ten day's leave of absence and made it a practice to watch all incoming steamers.

Washington, June 23.—Paul Charlton, a law officer in the Bureau of Insular Affairs, as soon as he heard that a man said to be his son Paul Charlton, had been arrested, left the office and departed from the city, presumably for Hoboken.
